LT BILL-HEADS, VISITING, BUSINESS AND ADDRESS

That Ebrew Jew. BY BRET HARTE.

There once was a tradesman renowned as a screw Who sold pins and needles and calicoes too, Till he built up a fortune-the which as it grew Just ruined small traders the whole city through-Yet one thing he knew Between me and you, There was a distinction

RDS printed in the highest style of the art.

'Twixt Christian and Jew. Till he died in his mansion—a great millionaire— The owner of thousands-but nothing to spare For the needy and poor who from hunger might drop, And only a pittance to clerks in his shop.

But left it all to A lawyer, who knew A subtle distinction 'Twixt Ebrew and Jew.

This man was no trader, but simply a friend Of this gent who kept shop, and who, nearing his end, Handed over a million—'twas only his due, Who discovered this contrast 'twixt Ebrew and Jew. For he said, "If you view This case as I do

There is a distinction "Twixt Ebrew and Jew." For the Jew is a man who will make money through His skill, his finesse, and his capital too,

And an Ebrew's a man that we Gentiles can 'do,' So you see there's a contrast 'twixt Ebrew and Jew. Ebrew and Jew, Jew and Ebrew, There's a subtle distinction 'Twixt Ebrew and Jew."

So he kept up his business of needles and pins, But always one day he atoned for his sins, But never the same day (for that wouldn't do) That the Jew faced his God with the awful Ebrew For this man he knew, Between me and you, There was a distinction

"Twixt Ebrew and Jew.

So he sold sods water, and shut up the fount Of a druggist whose creed was the Speech on the Mount, And he trafficked in galters and ruined the trade Of a German whose creed was by great Luther made But always he knew,

Between me and you, A subtle distinction 'Twixt Ebrew and Jew. Then he kept a hotel-here his trouble began-In a fashion unknown to his primitive plan;

For the rule of his honse to his manager ran, Don't give entertainment to Israelite man." Yet the manager knew, Between me and you, No other distinction "Twixt Ebrew and Jew.

"You may give to John Morrissey supper and wine, And Madam N. N. to your care I'll resign : You'll see that those Jenkins from Missouri Flat Are properly cared for ; but recollect that Never a Jew Who's not an Ebrew

Shall take up his lodgings Here at the Grand U. · You'll allow Miss McFilmsey her diamonds to wear; You'll permit the Van Dams at the walters to swear You'll allow Miss Decollete to flirt on the stair ;

But as to an Israelite-pray have a care, For, between me and you, Though the doctrine is new, There's a business distinction Twixt Ebrew and Jew.

Now, how shall we know? Prophet, tell us, pray do, Where the line of the Hebrew fades into the Jew? Or snub Meyerbeer and think Verdi a sin?

Shall we keep out Disraeli and take Rothschild in? What shall we do? O, give us a few Points to distinguish

'Twixt Ebrew and Jew. There was one-Heaven help us !- Who died in man With thorns on His forehead, but love in His face, And when "foxes had holes" and the birds of the air

Had their nests in the trees, there was no spot to spare For this " King of the Jews," Did the Romans refuse

This right to the Ebrews, Or only to Jews?

VARIETY.

Mr. Talleyrand once saying that the English and thirty-nine religions and only one sauce, evoked the retort from a witty Englishman. 'And the French have thirty-nine sauces and no religion."

He was kneeling at her feet and saying, "My precious sweet, life lingers to me as a petunia streaked with the glorious golden frettings of a soul which knoweth no love so-" " O, Henry!" said she, "that's the cheese."

A distinguished Liberal Christian writer says By no possible means can prayer be made to do duty of soap and water, or appropriate food, or a sufficient rest." The world's people found

New Name.-I was much amused hearing young lady say to an admirer : "Hush! Beware of the torpedo;" and on his asking for an explanation, she answered: "Oh, it's only our new name for mamma, because she blows

The bone strike of the back is broken, or the broke strike of the bone is backed, or the strike back of the broke is boned, or the-well, some of you newspaper men who say you could do this column better just get it straight. The Boston Globe says that the word " mule " signifies "to stop," being a Greek word. The Detroit Free Press says :- " The Globe is wrong. The word 'mule' is derived from the Indian dialect, and means 'to kick.' " The Free Press is wrong. "Mule" is Canadian. It means a woman on wash days. Dunbury News .- " How beautiful is the sea. One can stand upon the rocks of the coast and watch the incoming waves and listen delighted to their low music for hours at a time, and yet it is the sea that causes thousands of stron to swear, chew plug, drink rum, go without suspenders and smell of tar."

A Hackensack man was last midnight creep-ing softly along the bedroom floor, on his hands and knees, and was feeling tenderly under the bureau for something he had hidden there the evening before; but his wife woke and said, "William, what under the heavens are you doing?" "Dear," said he, "I'am walking in my sleep and dreaming that I am plucking water lilies from the soft, blue bosom of the lake."

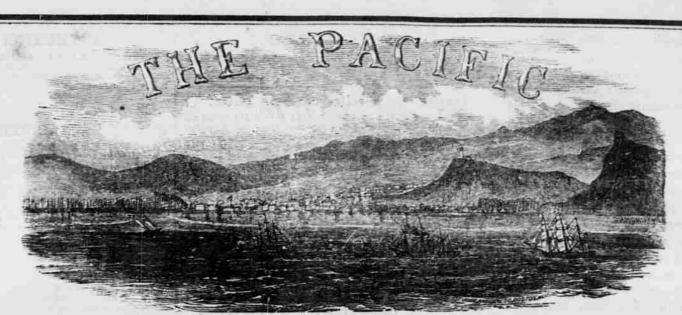

How to get that flask out of there before she got up in the morning was what worried him more than the water lilies did.

"What do we have Fourth of July for?" asked a Broadway boy of his ma.
"Fourth of July? Why, Freddy, I'm ashamed of you. We have Fourth of July to celebrate the—husband, I declare, I don't think for the moment what it is." "Why, don't you know why we celebrate the Fourth? Who was it discovered America?" "Christopher Columbus!" exclaimed the mother and boy simultaneously. "Right; and when did he discover it?"

"Why, on the Fourth of July, of course," replied the mother; "but I've got the worst memory about these historical facts." "That's it," said the wise father, encouragingly. "Columbus discovered America on the Fourth of July, and the nation celebrates the day in honor of the event. Freddy, I want you to study up. I should feel awfully mortified had you asked me such a question before company."
